

CRUISE THE COAST

VIETNAM

WHY GO?

Discovering Vietnam is like lingering over a bowl of flavourful phở: every ingredient should be savoured. From pristine beaches to ancient temples to vibrant street-life, there's always something to suit (especially if you pick the right tailor).

THE TOP FIVE

WHERE TO STAY

From Ho Chi Minh City, hop on a speedboat to An Lam Saigon River. Travel up to Princess d'An Nam Resort & Spa in untouched Ke Ga, before heading on to secluded Anantara Mui Ne Resort & Spa. Escape by boat to Six Senses Ninh Van Bay. Save Hoi An to last and bunker down beachside at The Nam Hai or Fusion Maia, but don't skip the historic centre.

In reach of city sights...

An Lam Saigon River
Peaceful Saigon sanctuary
Don't miss the speedboat rides

The Nam Hai
Spa-graced design den
Don't miss the trio of pools

Fusion Maia
Indulgent Hoi An beach base
Don't miss the garden spa

Far-flung finds

Anantara Mui Ne
Off-the-radar romance
Don't miss the local kite surfers

Princess d'An Nam
Regal resort in unspoilt Ke Ga
Don't miss a stroll in the orchards

Six Senses Ninh Van Bay
Rustic seduction on a private bay
Don't miss a sunset cruise

SOMETHING TO WRITE HOME ABOUT

Vietnam's moreish flavours will leave you craving lemongrass and lime months after you return. Don't let your postcards do the talking – sign up to a cookery class in Hoi An or at the Nam Hai hotel and forever wield a wok with panache.

WHEN TO GO

It's always high season somewhere in Vietnam, thanks to opposing monsoon seasons. In the north, peak season is from November until the end of April; the tropical south is always blissfully warm.
